Bio: I'm a Postdoctoral Researcher at the IMDEA Networks Institute in Madrid, Spain. My research sits at the intersection of privacy, empirical network measurement, and platform governance, with a focus on uncovering hidden data flows and cross-platform tracking in modern smart ecosystems. I have exposed covert tracking vectors—from localhost-based web-to-app tracking used by Meta and Yandex to wireless-scanning SDKs that infer location and unauthorized local-network data flows in smart homes. My measurement-driven research has shaped platform practices (e.g., Android 16's local-network permission), informed EU data protection authorities, and was cited by Spain's Prime Minister in discussions that led to a Congressional inquiry into Meta under the Digital Services Act. I publish in top-tier venues including PETS, IMC, and USENIX Security.

Education

- 2020-2025  Ph.D. Telematics Engineering IMDEA Networks Institute and University of Carlos III Madrid (UC3M), Madrid, Spain.
Dissertation: Understanding Interconnected Abuse in Consumer Smart Device Ecosystems.
Advisor: Prof. Narseo Vallina-Rodriguez (IMDEA Networks, AppCensus) & Dr. Srdjan Matic (IMDEA Softwares)
My dissertation challenges the process-centric view of privacy controls by showing that privacy violations often stem from systemic interactions across digital ecosystems rather than isolated components. I ideated and carried out this work end-to-end, developing multi-vantage measurement approaches that revealed cross-device and cross-platform tracking pathways and exposed how data moves through unmonitored channels in modern smart ecosystems. This work drove platform-level protections such as Android 16's local-network permission, prompted privacy fixes from Google, TP-Link, Philips, and over 20 IoT vendors, and attracted global attention with 100+ news and media reports.
- 2020-2021  M.Sc. Computer Security. University of Carlos III Madrid (UC3M), Madrid, Spain.
Dissertation: ImposTer: Towards an extensible privacy analysis framework for Smart Home ecosystem.
- 2016-2020  B.Tech. Computer Science and Engineering. Amrita Vishwa Vidyapeetham, Amritapuri, Kerala, India
Dissertation: Empirical Analysis of Adaptive Bitrate Streaming over QUIC
Semester abroad: Ben-Gurion University of the Negev, Israel (Summer 2018)
